TREKKING & SURF

From the Atlas mountain range to one of the world's favorite surf destinations, Morocco offers countless opportunities for outdoor sports and nature-based activities.

For those seeking a more relaxed pace, the coastal cities of Essaouira and Rabat offer beautiful beaches as well as immersion in authentic Moroccan urban life.

TREKKING

In the High Atlas Mountains and Toubkal National Park stands Jbel Toubkal, the highest peak in Morocco and all of North Africa, reaching 4,167 meters. It is located about 60 km south of Marrakech..

SURFING

Taghazout is a village in southwestern Morocco overlooking the Atlantic Ocean, just 16 km from Agadir. It became famous in the late 1960s thanks to travelers exploring southern Morocco. Most of its inhabitants are Berber.
